A $10,000 Purchase of All-Silk Foulards.

It's the banner purchase of the season in this department. Our silk buyer was summoned to New York last week to make an offer for so many hundred pieces of these much desired silks. The price concession made was sufficiently low enough for him to buy the entire quantity. These, added to our already superb stock, will make it a silk sale equal to any and all of the large sales we have had yet.

100 pieces of All-silk Foulard in neat and pretty designs, an excellent cloth—the colorings are all very desirable, and no less than fifteen to twenty patterns from which to select—they are 2' inches wide and are sold everywhere for 50c per yard—for

The Duty on Wool Redneed

Consul Avers reports to the State Department from Rosario, Argentine Republic, that 33 1-3 per cent reduction in the valuation of wool for export has been announced. A newspaper clipping enclosed by Mr. Ayers discussed was the proposed location of says that the low price of wool has causted a paralysis in that industry. The export duty on wool is 4 per cent on a valored children. port duty on wool is 4 per cent on a valuation of $3$ gold per 22.046 pounds; but the present average value on embarkation does not exceed $2$ gold, so that the duty represents an increase of the duty from 4 to 6 per cent. It has therefore been decreed that $2$ gold per 22.046 pounds shall be taken as the value, to take effect February 1 and continue while the present low prices are maintained.
